Where international, state, and/or county boundaries coincide, the map shows the boundary symbol for only the highest-ranking of these boundaries.

¹ A “-” following a place name indicates that the place is coextensive with a MCD. A “-” indicates that the place is also a false MCD, the false MCD name is not shown.

² This map shows tribal census tract boundaries and numbers within the subject entity; continental census tract boundaries are not shown outside of the subject entity but without numbers. A tribal census tract is a type of census tract defined within a federal tribe’s recognized state and county boundaries or off-reservation trust land for the purpose of providing data based on an American Indian sovereignty that is not subject to state and county jurisdiction or off-reservation trust lands cross state or county boundaries, the same tribal census tract may be assigned on both sides of the boundary, and, if so, constitutes a single tribal census tract entity.

Where international, state, and/or county boundaries coincide, the map shows the boundary symbol for only the highest-ranking of these boundaries.

1. The following is a pictorial key indicating the symbols used on the map:
 - A " " indicates that the place is also a false MCD; the false MCD name is shown in parentheses.
2. This map shows tribal census tract boundaries and numbers within the subject entity; nontribal census tract boundaries are shown outside of the subject entity but without numbers. The following are the names of the census tracts defined within a federally recognized American Indian reservation or reservation trust land:
 - American Indian reservation rather than by state and county. Where reservations are located on reservation trust land, the reservation name is used as the tribal census tract name. Tribal census tracts are assigned on both sides of the boundary, and, if so, constitutes a single tribal census tract entity.
3. A " " following a block number indicates that the block number is repeated elsewhere in the block.
